Chief Executive Officer: Shawn Tester

“The colorful student art on the walls of the hospital makes us all smile. It’s just what we need right now.”

Waterford School ~ Ms. Ceraso

Director of Philanthropy: Emily Hutchison

"I was so excited when this show went up, and so were all of the staff. Given the challenging times we are facing, the show reminds of why NVRH is here....for our community. The show brings joy and hope for everyone who walks our hallways. I hope the students know how much this show means to us, particularly at this time!"

VP of Quality Management Programs: Colleen Sinon

“From cats with hypnotic eyes to whimsical flowers , the current art show provides me with daily surprises as I take my walk through the gallery. I am amazed by the talented students we have from all of the schools in our area. I see something new each time I pass through and stop to take a closer look at each one of the featured pieces. Many thanks to the students and teachers who have provided them with an opportunity to explore the world of art.”

Care Manager and LNA: Candace Houghton

“It’s uplifting to see how talented our local students are, and reassuring they have the opportunity to create such masterpieces at school! This exhibit brightened my day! Thanks for sharing!”

St. Johnsbury School ~ Mr. Jewell and Ms. Eidel

Director of Quality Infection: Patty Launer

“It has been a busy and stressful time for all of the staff here at NVRH. But in the midst of our days, I often see staff stopping to admire the pictures that are lining the halls. The artwork makes staff smile, and reminds us of the community we are here to serve. That is a real gift and we are very grateful!”

Thaddeus Stevens School ~ Mrs. Benedict and Mr. Hood

“When I look at the art created by our blossoming youth it brings me back 50 years! Rejuvenating. Nostalgia. Renewed faith. Envious of their talent. Having the student art lighting up our hallways brings new life into the hospital. We are so thankful.”

Registered Nurse Clinical Nurse Educator: Rebecca Locke

“Makes me smile, especially because one of my nieces have a painting on display! They are also so creative and colorful and brighten the staff’s day.”

Good Shepherd School~ Mrs. DeKett

” Director of Volunteer Services: Pat Forest

“Love the different styles, texture and designs of this art. The students did an amazing job and it has brightened our days during this difficult time. Our patients just love it.”

Good Shepherd School~ Mrs. DeKett

Chaplain: Abby Pollender

“I look forward to this show. The artwork is so lively and imaginative. It’s impressive the different types of projects that the art teachers come up with. Because my office is in the middle of the hallway, I get to hear all the wonderful compliments people make as they walk down the hall. There is a blue cat just outside my office door, that Isabel from the Peacham School made. I love it, and have become very attached to it. I will so miss it when the show is over!”

Peacham School ~ Ms. Lyons

Lead Respiratory Therapist: Heather Nelson

“Our office is embedded in the gallery hallway. When we step out of our office discussing the current COVID-19 issues that we are facing, the artwork gives us a mini vacation! This show is so innovative with bright views to look at. We hear wonderful things being said in the halls from staff and patients when they walk through. This show is giving us a Great Break and we certainly need it.”

Chief Nursing Officer: Julie Schneckenburger

“We love to see the amazing talent that the students have shared with us here at NVRH. Walking down the hall, gives us a sense of normalcy and joy...it lifts our hearts and spirits!”

Millers Run and Newark Street Schools ~ Ms. Palumbo

Director of Emergency Services: Darrell Bormann

“I like it, it’s cute.... It is grounding for us to look at art because it takes our thoughts away from the pressure we are facing”

VP of Physician Practices: Laura Newell

“ I love walking through the hallway and seeing such talent from our local young artists.”

VP of Human Resources: Betty Ann Gwatkin

“We are so fortunate to have the students’ art show at NVRH every year, but especially this year. The colorful artwork makes all of us smile as we walk through the halls. We want the students to know, while they can’t physically be in school now, the pieces they worked so hard on earlier this school year continues to provide joy to the healthcare workers of NVRH each day!”

Danville School ~ Ms. Brehm & Concord School ~ Mrs. Huntington

Access Manager: Jeannine LaCoss

“The Access Department sincerely thanks all of the art exhibitors, teachers and schools for the delightful art display. So much talent from all ages is so comforting during a time of where we all need to help each other.”

Director of Diagnostic Imaging: Jackie Zaun

“It’s wonderful to see all of the work our local teachers and students have done this year. In this time of uncertainty and struggle their art has been a wonderful outlet to get lost in thought and awe. I appreciate the willingness you share their hard work and creativity.”

Lyndon Town School ~ Mrs. Clement and Ms. Palumbo

Environmental Services: Viola Fradiani

“This show is lifting up my spirits when I travel these halls everyday. It helps stop my mind from focusing on the problems that are currently taking place. Many people are enjoying this show, Thank you!”

Riverside School ~ Ms. Suzanne Tanner

Patient: Name not disclosed

“Vividly entertaining and appreciative. I have to come weekly to get my labs drawn and each time I notice another piece that reminds me of my childhood, it brightens my day and makes me feel good!”

St. Johnsbury School~ Mr. Evans

Thank you From NVRH!

Teachers, Staff, and Students we appreciate you!
