

NVRH Relationship Details	Artis Name and Town	Medium	Title	For Sale or NFS	About The Artist
Jennifer Layn's (Philanthropy) Family	The Pieces of 5 Generations	Mix	The Pieces of 5 Generations	Not For Sale	Beginning with Jenn Layn's great-great-grandmother, the love of expressing the feeling of peace has been a recurring theme in the artistic works of five generations. This family's deep appreciation for nature is beautifully reflected in their art, capturing the serene beauty of the natural world around them.
Jennifer Layn's (Philanthropy) Daughter	True Layn, Peacham	Journal	Me, Myself, and I	Not For Sale	True Layn, a talented 6th-grade student at the Peacham Elementary School, has a profound love for nature, sports, family, and friends. Her art piece captures the vibrant colors of the world around her. She wrote a little biography about herself in the 5th grade.
Jennifer Layn's (Philanthropy) Son	Roarke Layn, Peacham	Clay	Mr. Green Frog	Not For Sale	Roarke Layn, a creative 2nd-grade clay artist, has a special fondness for frogs, which often inspire his imaginative creations. One of his most cherished projects is a charming frog-shaped ring holder he made for his mommy. Roarke's talent and love for working with clay shine through in his whimsical and heartfelt pieces, bringing joy to those around him. His enthusiasm for art and his ability to turn his favorite subjects into functional and delightful objects showcase his budding artistic potential.
Jennifer Layn's (Philanthropy) Niece	Addison Kirchoff, Lyndonville	Oil Painting	Still Life with Teapot	Not For Sale	At the age of 4 years old Addison Kirchoff was noticed as a gifted artist, currently in the 9th-grade attending Lyndon Insitute, she is renowned for her exceptional talent in creating detailed still life and pencil art pieces. Her meticulous attention to detail brings her subjects to life with stunning realism and precision. Addison's ability to capture the subtleties of light, shadow, and texture sets her work apart, showcasing her remarkable skill and dedication to her craft. Her artwork not only demonstrates technical proficiency but also an innate ability to observe and replicate the beauty of everyday objects.
Jennifer Layn's (Philanthropy) Niece	Addison Kirchoff, Lyndonville	Watercolor	Sweet Duckling	Not For Sale	When Addison visits her Grandmommy she will sit and paint at her dining room table. This piece she created in 10 minutes.
Jennifer Layn's (Philanthropy) Mother	Joan Kirchoff, Lyndonville	Pastel	Vermont Waterfall	Not For Sale	Joan worked a lot with pastel in her earlier career as an artist. This piece she worked on in a 2 year period while waiting for Army Fianance to finish service in 1971. At this time she was a music teacher in Essex Center enjoying the beautiful sounds of the Waterfall.
Jennifer Layn's (Philanthropy) Sister	Bonnie Kirchoff, Lyndonville	Paint	Sunrise on the Sand	Not For Sale	Bonnie studied in her art class at Lyndon Insitute about Jackson Pollock and for her senior project in highschool (Lyndon Insitute) this piece was her beautiful interpretation of one of his pieces.
Jennifer Layn's (Philanthropy) Great Great Grandmother	Great Grandmother Mercey Fairhurst, Deceased	Paint	Weeping Willow	Not For Sale
Jennifer Layn's (Philanthropy) Great Great Grandmother	Great Grandmother Mercey Fairhurst, Deceased	Paint	Summer Flower	Not For Sale
Peggy Gammell's (Access) Son	Jacob Gilman	Paint	My Boxer Dogs	Not For Sale	When I was in 5th grade at Burke Town School, I drew this picture of my two boxer dogs. At the end of the school year, I was awarded an art kit in honor of my work. It has been my mom, Peggy Gammell's, favorite ever since.
Peggy Gammell's (Access) Son	Owen Gilman	Paint	Brother	Not For Sale	I drew this picture for my brother Jacob when I was in kindergarten. I loved both dinosaurs and my brother. It has been my mom, Peggy Gammell's, favorite piece of mine ever since.
Peggy Gammell's (Access) Daughter	Olivia Gilman	Paint	Humanity	Not For Sale	I drew this picture of people around the world when I was in 6th grade at Burke Town School. This project helped me develop a deep understanding and love of humanity. It has been my mom, Peggy Gammell's, favorite piece of mine ever since.
Trudy Harran, NVRH Pain Clinic	Trudy Harran, Danville	Diamond Art	Monkey Business	$55	Trudy Harran has always loved using her creativity, and when she discovered diamond art painting, she quickly fell in love with this form of artistry. As she works on each piece, she often says she is "in her happy place."
Trudy Harran, NVRH Pain Clinic	Trudy Harran, Danville	Diamond Art	Childhood Innocence	$30
Trudy Harran, NVRH Pain Clinic	Trudy Harran, Danville	Diamond Art	Sloth Wagon	$25
Trudy Harran, NVRH Pain Clinic	Trudy Harran, Danville	Diamond Art	Colorful Frog	$30
Trudy Harran, NVRH Pain Clinic	Trudy Harran, Danville	Diamond Art	Classy Cat	$75
Trudy Harran, NVRH Pain Clinic	Trudy Harran, Danville	Diamond Art	Patriots	$75
Trudy Harran, NVRH Pain Clinic	Trudy Harran, Danville	Diamond Art	Home is Where my Dog is	$55
Trudy Harran, NVRH Pain Clinic	Trudy Harran, Danville	Diamond Art	Ducks Unlimited	$60
Sarah Morgan, NVRH Patient Accounts	Sarah Morgan, Barton	Photography	Momma and Fawn	Not For Sale	Sarah Morgan loves taking pictures, and her son gave her his old camera before moving to California. Now, she captures photos of amazing places, objects, and nature. Her shots may not be perfect, but she beautifully preserves memories through her lens.
Sarah Morgan, NVRH Patient Accounts	Sarah Morgan, Barton	Photography	Learning to navigate	Not For Sale
Sarah Morgan, NVRH Patient Accounts	Sarah Morgan, Barton	Photography	Bridge High Waterfall	Not For Sale
Sarah Morgan, NVRH Patient Accounts	Sarah Morgan, Barton	Photography	Reflection	Not For Sale
Sarah Morgan, NVRH Patient Accounts	Sarah Morgan, Barton	Photography	Light House	Not For Sale
Sarah Morgan, NVRH Patient Accounts	Sarah Morgan, Barton	Photography	Land of the Cattle	Not For Sale
Shawn Tester's (CEO) Step Mother	Sue H. Tester, Barton	Photography	Looking Towards Lake Willoughby	$145	Sue Tester, is a native Vermonter who lives in Barton, Vermont. She grew up in Vergennes, on the other side of the state where, when in high school, was gifted a Kodak Pocket Instamatic camera. She hasn't stopped taking pictures since. Her unique eye for capturing what she wants to say with the camera is evident in her photographs.
Shawn Tester's (CEO) Step Mother	Sue H. Tester, Barton	Photography	Jersy Cow	$125
Shawn Tester's (CEO) Step Mother	Sue H. Tester, Barton	Photography	Finn & Rainbow	$125
Shawn Tester's (CEO) Step Mother	Sue H. Tester, Barton	Photography	Trees in the Midst	$125
Shawn Tester's (CEO) Step Mother	Sue H. Tester, Barton	Photography	John Deere	$100
					Sue graduated from Lyndon State College and got her elementary teaching degree and taught at Glover School for 35 years. Upon retiring from teaching,

Shawn Tester's (CEO) Step Mother	Sue H. Tester, Barton	Photography	Autumn Beauty	$125	Sue has been able to devote more time to her photography and has exhibited her lovely and artful photographs of local landscapes, and wildlife, these past several years.
Shawn Tester's (CEO) Step Mother	Sue H. Tester, Barton	Photography	Lilies	$125
Shawn Tester's (CEO) Step Mother	Sue H. Tester, Barton	Photography	Call Duck in Blue	$100
Dawn Dobbs, NVRH CSR Technician	Dawn Dobbs, Danville	Hand Quilted	King Size 9 Patched Quilt	$600	Dawn has been sewing quilts for nearly 50 years. When she was a teenager, her grandmother gave her a box of old shirts and dresses along with a square cut out of cardboard. She instructed Dawn to cut as many squares as possible from the fabric. Once Dawn finished, her grandmother helped her assemble her very first quilt. This particular quilt is a 9 patch which is a very old pattern. When fabric was not as readily available, every scarp was used.

Please Contact Jen Layn If you are interested in purchasing one of these pieces. 25% of sale goes to NVRH

NVRH Relationship Details	Artis Name and Town	Medium	Title	For Sale or NFS	About The Artist
Susan Rhodes, NVRH St. J Pediatrics Behavioral Health	Susan Rhodes, Peacham	Painting	Peacham Farm		My family moved here to Vermont in January 2024. With the last home we moved into, I made a similar painting, showing the house, our pets and children and this house was the first home we purchased post recovery in my family. When we moved to Vermont and were very blessed to find this farmhouse, I knew I needed to do the same; make a painting to honor it. Recovery continues in our home and the new painting reflects many changes: a new cat, a new state, and the loss of a pregnancy, "BR3," floating in the sky. I hoped to convey the beauty of Vermont and our deep appreciation for this next chapter in our journey.
Kathryn Siner's (Birth Center) Daughter	Wren Lacroix, Peacham	Paint and Stamp	Cattle and his bird	Not For Sale	Wren G. Lecroix is a 2nd grader at Peacham Elementary School. Her art is inspired by the natural world she explores as an 8-year-old living in the Northeast Kingdom. Wren loves to paint and create using pieces she finds outside, bringing the beauty of nature into her artwork.
Kathryn Siner's (Birth Center) Daughter	Wren Lacroix, Peacham	Paint and Stamp	The Bear in the Trees	$25.00
Kathryn Siner's (Birth Center) Daughter	Wren Lacroix, Peacham	Paint and Stamp	Colorful Square	$25.00
Kathryn Siner's (Birth Center) Daughter	Wren Lacroix, Peacham	Paint and Stamp	Vase of Flowers	Not For Sale
Deborah Locke-Rousseau (Community Connections) Husband	DJ Rousseau	Woodworking	Winter	Not For Sale	DJ has been an artist for most of his life, from the Calvin & Hobbes mural on his childhood bedroom wall to the signs at the Burlington Fire Department. In his retirement, he channels his creativity into "Mix It Up DJ and Cake Services," where he crafts beautiful cakes. This particular sign is the result of a shopping trip where his wife tried to buy a giant welcome sign for their house. DJ volunteered, saying, "I can make you one of those," which led to the creation of this beautifully detailed "winter" sign, with more seasonal designs to follow.
Deborah Locke-Rousseau (Community Connections)	Ember Rousseau	Watercolor	Wrestling Memories	Not For Sale	Wren G. Lecroix is a 2nd grader at Peacham Elementary School. Her art is inspired by the natural world she explores as an 8-year-old living in the Northeast Kingdom. Wren loves to paint and create using pieces she finds outside, bringing the beauty of nat
Sarah Emery, NVRH Director of Medical Staff Services					During my 2022-2024 Cancer treatment, I began crafting art cards for my friends. I received so much joy from creating these funky items. I hope to share my cards with you – and I hope they make you happy as well. I would define my style as artsy-craftsy with a sprinkle of weird. All pieces are made from vintage fairy tales, mysteries or novels and use embellishments from nature, open source art or just a few sparkles
Sarah Emery, NVRH Director of Medical Staff Services	Sarah Emery, St. Johnsbury	Art Cards from Vintage Books	Gothic Series	$10.00	Inspired by the Gardner museum, this card combines 1950's fairy tale text and art with crystal embellishments. The viewer may wonder what the subject sees in the mirror.
Sarah Emery, NVRH Director of Medical Staff Services	Sarah Emery, St. Johnsbury	Art Cards from Vintage Books	Pressed and Vintage Series	$10.00	Telling a story, this lovely bride blushes under the gaze of her intended. Foreshadowing her future, pressed mums and baby's breath add texture.

Please Contact Jen Layn If you are interested in purchasing one of these pieces. 25% of sale goes to NVRH